

Opening in partnership with Chapman Partnership

With the support of The JAMM Project and Next Level Art Fairs

About 55Bellechasse:

Since 2013, Bertrand Scholler and Hans Mautner have partnered in 55Bellechasse to participate in the emergence of fifteen international artists, with an approach that endeavors to combine some of the historic and traditional aspects of the art dealer's profession and a more entrepreneurial and international approach to the issues which have been influencing this business for at least a decade. Thus, our artists represent a global geography, are generally young, ambitious and talented. We see it as our mission to help them further their individual careers through exposing their work to serious collectors around the world. Also we always wonder before making any choice of new artist, if their work can last, whether they have something worthwhile to say which manifests itself in their work.
